

Siena Castellon

Siena Castellon is an award-winning author and supporter of neurodiversity.

Neurodiversity is about some people's brains being different and having different ways of thinking.

Siena has written books about neurodiversity.

She has also been in charge of projects that raise awareness of neurodiversity.

Siena has won many awards for both her books and project work.

Through her work she would like to challenge what people think about neurodiversity and teach others.
