Disability Power 100

Will Perry

Will is a disabled swimmer who has swum for Great Britain in lots of big sports competitions, like the Paralympic Games.

About my disability...

Since the Paralympic Games Will has spoken up about living with a disability.

He is trying to teach more people about disability hate crime and abuse.

A hate crime is being harassed or attacked because people think you are different.

Will is learning to be a professional public speaker so that he can travel the country speaking to schools and companies about disability issues.
