

Richard Keagan-Bull

Richard has a learning disability.

School was difficult, but he enjoyed working for Derwen College in Shropshire in their catering department.

He now lives in a flat in London with support from L'Arche.

He set up the National Speaking Group for L'Arche.

Richard got involved with People First.

He now:

- is co-chair of Lambeth Assembly for People with a Learning Disability.
- has a research job at Kingston and St George's University.

Website: www.larche.org.uk/blogs/rkb

Twitter: www.twitter.com/derwem

Facebook: www.facebook.com/richard.keaganbull

Easy Read by easy-read-online.co.uk